I. W. W. JAMS UNION SQUARE, AN ANARCHIST IN CONTROL, POLICE READY FOR OUTBREAK

Alexander Berkman Ignores
Free Speech League and Presides Over Meeting.

CROWD IN GOOD ORDER

Anarchist's Speech Fails to Arouse the Enthusiasm of the Throng.

Although the plaza of Union Square was packed with thousands while hundreds passed and repassed in Broadway and Fourth avenue, there was almost perfect order when the Industrial Workers of the World-Anarchist demonstration began this afternoon. Alexander Berkman presided, and none questioned his right to do so, though before the meeting there had been promise of trouble in the selection of a leader.

Lincoln Steffens of the Free Speech League had said that he hadn't made up his mind who would preside and Leonard Abbott of the Ferrer School had said just as earnestly that he hadn't. Berkman had declared without hesitation that the post of honor should be his and so it was.

Long before the meeting the plaza had filled with curious folk and there was no room to move when Berkman began to speak from a small portable platform which had been brought from the Ferrer School because of the failure of the promoters of the meeting to get a permit from the Park Department to employ the porch of the cottage which faces the plaza from the south.

This was used by the police, Chief Inspector Max Schmittberger established headquarters there and occasionally uniformed men carried reports to him. He kept himself as little in evidence as possible, and the few uniformed men who were posted in the square concealed their nightsticks as well as they could beneath their service overcoats. There was apparent note of that willingness to mix in trouble which had been evidenced by the police last week.

PLENTY OF POLICE ON HAND FOR AN EMERGENCY.
But there were plenty of policemen on hand. In accordance with a plan of secretly policing the meeting, which originated with Commissioner Woods, some fifty odd picked detectives mingled with the crowds in the guise of laborers or men out of work. At every police signal box in the neighborhood.

ROOSEVELT'S PARTY ALL IN GOOD HEALTH

Colonel Will Return From the Brazilian Wilds to Civilization on April 27.

RIO DE JANEIRO, April 11.—The report that Col. Theodore Roosevelt expects to arrive at Manaus on April 27 was confirmed to-day in telegrams received by Dr. Lauro Muller, Brazilian Minister of Foreign Affairs. The doctor's party, accompanied by a Brazilian expedition and by the Governor of the State of Amazonas.

It was added that in spite of the difficulties due to the rainy season the state of health of the members of the expedition who had arrived at Calama was excellent. Anthony Flaherty, who was sent by the Governor of the State of Amazonas to accompany the expedition, was reported upon his recovery.

Great I. W. W. Outpouring in Union Square; Anarchist Alexander Berkman Addressing Crowd (SPECIALLY PHOTOGRAPHED FOR THE EVENING WORLD BY A STAFF PHOTOGRAPHER.)

"FEDS" WILL RAID ALL LEAGUE TEAMS NOW, SAYS GILMORE

"Outlaws" President Also Announces Killifer Will Be Sued for $25,000.

President Gilmore of the Federal League got in town to-day and declared quarterless warfare on organized baseball when he announced that he had given permission to each of the Presidents of the eight clubs making up the "outlaw" circuit to "do business" with any player of the National or American Leagues, whether under contract or not.

This announcement was made by Prexy Gilmore to a representative of The Evening World while inspecting the progress being made on the home of the Brookfords. At the same time he announced that the Killifer decision will not be appealed by the Federal League, but that the Philly catcher will be sued for $25,000 for breach of contract.

"Until now Manager Stovall of the Kansas City Club of our league was the only club head authorized to raid organized baseball wherever an opportunity presented, but we have since learned of the nasty work of the powers that be in organized baseball to ruin not only Stovall's team, but all of the teams in the league and so we have decided to fight them with their own fire," declared Mr. Gilmore.

"DON'T JUMP," WIRES FULTZ TO ST. LOUIS BROWNS.

Magistrates Are Using Players to Fight Their Battles, Says Fraternity Head.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 11.—Members of the Browns have been advised to stick to Owner Hedges by David M. Fultz, President of the Baseball Players' Fraternity. If the following telegram found in the Browns' clubhouse and published here is authentic it reads:

"Darrill Pratt, care St. Louis (American) League Baseball Club: Strongly advise players not to jump their contracts. Will not be allowed to play and will have to return bonus money. Will also be expelled from Fraternity. Magistrates are using players to fight their own battles, and players are ones who are suffering. Don't let them make goats out of the boys."

NEW BROOKLYN DEPUTY.

Street Cleaning Commissioner Names Aide Across Bridge. Street Cleaning Commissioner Fetherston has appointed Charles Mauro of No. 54 Ninth street, Brooklyn, Deputy Commissioner for Brooklyn. The appointment is to take effect April 15. Mauro is a thirty-five years old, a graduate of the College of the City of New York. He has worked and traveled in Europe, Australia and New Zealand and in the Antipodes as a gold prospector. Mauro has been connected with the immigrant railroad traffic for the past ten years.

EBBETS FIELD, BROOKLYN.

April 11.—With each team credited with two victories of the four games played so far, the Dodgers and Highlanders met again here this afternoon in the deciding game of their inter-city spring series. The weather was a trifle too cold for baseball, but the fans took a chance on the struggle and attended in unusually large numbers. There were close to 6,000 on hand when Umpire Emslie ordered the teams to get going.

King Cole, who showed such great speed and curves recently in one of the games against the Dodgers, was put in to beat the Dodgers, with

M'ADOO JOINS WILSON EASTER VACATION PARTY

Will Be With His Fiancee During the Holidays—President an Early Golf Player.

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va., April 11.—Bright sunshine and an invigorating temperature greeted President Wilson when he went golfing early to-day. He arose before any of the other guests at the hotel where he is stopping and with Dr. Cary T. Grayson, his aide, had the links to himself.

Secretary McAdoo joined the Presidential party to-day. His fiancee, Miss Eleanor Wilson, is here.

SIX RAINY SUNDAYS AHEAD.

Damp Prediction Comes With Weather Forecast.
WASHINGTON, April 11.—It probably will be a rainy Easter Sunday all over the East. Unless some freak of nature sets the best predictions of the Weather Bureau experts awry, there will be rain and snow in the northern portion of the East and rains over the southern districts. It is a stock prediction among lay weather prophets that if it rains on Easter Sunday it will rain for six consecutive Sundays thereafter. The weather sharps say, however, there is nothing certain about that.

The weather which threatens to retire Easter fire to the bandboxes and spoil the promenade on the fashionable avenues of many cities is a joint effort from Texas and Canada.

GOFF HEARS TWO NEW WITNESSES TELL STORY OF ROSENTHAL KILLING

District-Attorney Attacks Men Summoned by Gunmen's Lawyer in Action to Get New Trial for Condemned Men.

ONE SAW "MURDER CAR," OTHER SAW "SHOTS FIRED"

Great Crowd, Including Wives of Doomed Slayers, Jam Court Room to Hear Evidence.

Before Justice Goff this afternoon lawyers for the four condemned gunmen produced two new witnesses to help prop their last attempt to get a new trial and stay the execution set for Monday. Karl Dresner of No. 147 East Fifty-fifth street swore he saw Webber, Vallon and Schepps in the "murder car," and William Burwell of Waterbury, Conn., said he saw the actual shooting. A great crowd jammed in the court room to hear the final plea. The wives of two of the gunmen and the mother of "Dago Frank" were present.

Under District-Attorney Whitman's relentless battering, Dresner, an under-sized, familiar type of the east side, wavered perceptibly as to the exact time he stood near the Elks' Club and saw the gray car pass. He "had an idea" that he reached his home near Lexington avenue and Fifty-first street before 2 A. M., whereas the murder occurred at 1.55 A. M. Frequently Dresner found refuge in such exclamations as "You make me so nervous," and "Every time I start you hit me on the head."

RADIUM NO CURE FOR CANCER, FIRST AUTHORITY SAYS

Dr. Sparmann of Vienna, Recognized Leader, Finds It Injurious.

Radium as a means of treating cancer and tumor was declared a failure to-day at the convention of the American Surgical Association at the Hotel Astor by the man who is regarded as the first authority on the medical use of radium. He is Dr. Robert Sparmann of Vienna, an associate of Dr. Anton von Eiselsberg, with whom he has experimented and who alone has a reputation greater than his confere. Furthermore, he asserted that radium frequently injured the general condition of the patient.

Dr. Robert Abbe of this city, the first advocate of radium treatment for tumor and cancer in this country, who assisted in the unsuccessful treatment of Congressman Brenner of New Jersey, followed Dr. Sparmann with a defense of radium, while agreeing in the main with the Vienna surgeon, though contending that its indirect results were of wonderful value and that its failure otherwise might be attributed to the little knowledge that so far obtained as to the technique of radium treatment. Dr. Sparmann listened patiently, but at Dr. Abbe's conclusion put his belief into the single sentence:

"Radium is effective only in super-

It will be recalled that Rose testified that some time before the assassination Rose, Schepps and Vallon rode east through West Forty-third street around to Webber's poker room. It was evidently the Prosecutor's aim to show that Dresner saw the gray car on this occasion and not after the shooting.

KEPT QUIET IN FEAR OF BEING KILLED.
Dresner speaks English with the German formula, using "should" and "shall" for the past tense. He was a blue suit and white vest. He has blond hair which is sparse on the top of his high forehead. Although he insisted that fear of death and the dread of being "croaked," even on the steps of the Criminal Courts Building, deterred him from coming to the front before to-day, he quite nimbly fenced with the District-Attorney, whom he invariably designated as "Your Honor."

When pressed down to definite statements made in his affidavit, upon which the motion for a new trial for the gunmen was granted, Dresner pleaded that he did not have a watch and did not keep track of the minutes exactly. The impression of reliability which he created under Judge Wahl's direct examination was considerably shaken.

During the long interrogation of the witness the two wives sat restlessly in their seats. Mrs. Rosenberg, always full of animation, leaned forward repeatedly, but her big blue eyes found little hope in the disturbed story of Dresner. Mrs. Horowitz leaned back in her seat and made no effort to see over the heads of the spectators who sat in front of her. Judge Wahl opened his appeal by relating what has already been published in reference to the contention of "Dago Frank" that he was nowhere near the scene when Rosenthal was shot. Then he took up the affidavits made by William Burwell of Waterbury, Conn., the billiard player, and Karl Dresner, the bartender. District-Attorney Whitman, who sat beside Judge Wahl, was another keen listener to the plea and the long recital. Then Karl Dresner was called to the stand. He is a white-faced,
